JAPANESE CULTURAL CENTER OF HAWAII

Honoring our heritage. Embracing our diversity. Sharing our future.

Brennon Morioka to Lead the JCCH Board of Directors

Honoring our heritage has a special meaning for Dr. Brennon Morioka. For the past four years, he has served on the JCCH Board of Directors and has seen first hand how important it is to have organizations such as the Japanese Cultural Center of Hawai'i (JCCH) carry on the legacy of our ancestors.

For that reason, Morioka is passionate about the center's mission, JCCH's place in the community, and eager to take on his new role as chairman of the JCCH Board of Directors.

"Knowing the struggles and sacrifices of our ancestors as well as those morals and beliefs that they held strong helps us understand ourselves as a people and as a community," said Brennon Morioka, chairman of the JCCH Board of Directors. "The Japanese American experience so greatly influenced the cultural character, political fabric, and ethnic complexion of our state. It is a big part of the story of Hawai'i and why our statewide community is so different and unique from anywhere else in the world."

Over the past four years, Morioka has actively served on the Executive, Budget & Finance, Facilities & Operations, and Governance board committees and served as co-chair of the Fundraising / Membership Development committee.

He served as co-chair for the Sharing the Spirit of Aloha Annual Gala committee for two years in a row and as sponsorship chair for both the annual gala and the New Year's 'Ohana Festival.

"I look forward to working with incoming Chairman Brennon Morioka," said Carole Hayashino, JCCH president and executive director. "Brennon brings a wealth of experience in facilities management, fundraising, marketing, communications and is committed to the mission of the JCCH. We are fortunate to have Brennon at the helm as we launch into the JCCH capital improvement project funded by the State of Hawai'i Grant-in-Aid program."

Morioka is currently deputy executive director for the Honolulu Authority for Rapid Transportation where he assists in overall management related to project planning, design, construction, agency personnel and budget, and government and community affairs. Previously, Morioka served as vice president with CH2MHill in the Honolulu office working with the Transportation and Water/Wastewater Business Groups.

Morioka served as the director of the State of Hawai'i Department of Transportation for three years after serving three years as the deputy director for the Highways Division. He has also served as the executive vice president for Shioi Construction, Inc. providing general contracting services. He is a licensed civil engineer in Hawai'i and California.

Morioka received his Bachelor's and Master's of Science degrees in Civil Engineering from the University of California at Berkeley and completed his doctoral studies here at home at the University of Hawai'i at Mānoa. He is also a graduate of 'Iolani School.

He and Jeanine, his wife of 15 years, have three children, daughter Taysia (11 years old), and identical twin sons Brayden and Bronson (9 years old).

Please join us in welcoming Morioka to his new role as chairman.

Aloha JCCH Members and Friends,

We wrapped up a successful 2013-2014 fiscal year on June 30, 2014. Many thanks go out to the JCCH Board of Directors for their oversight and steadfast leadership throughout the year and to our many members and donors who provided us with their generous support.

Programmatically, it was another year filled with cultural activities, educational outreach, and expanding partnerships. JCCH was on the road with The Untold Story: Internment of Japanese Americans in Hawai'i, the JCCH full-length documentary film, with screenings in Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Jose and Manzanar. The JCCH Hawai'i Internment Education Committee worked with the Department of Education to develop a teacher's resource guide to the film and hosted over a thousand high school students on a tour of Honouliuli.

Back at home, the center welcomed sumo legend Jesse Kuhaulua for a special talk-story reception, co-sponsored efforts to bring Sadako Sasaki's paper crane to Honolulu and co-hosted the family of Sadako Sasaki for International Peace Day at Pearl Harbor. The staff and volunteers organized the annual New Year's 'Ohana Festival for thousands of participants. They also led over 5,200 students and teachers through our historical exhibit, Okage Sama De.

You might also recall reading about JCCH in the news—hosting U.S. Secretary of the Interior Sally Jewell, participating at the National Park Service's Community Meetings to advocate for the preservation of Honouliuli as a national park, and as guests of Hawaii Five-O to visit the set of Honouliuli for the taping of the episode, Ho'onani Makuakane, Honor Thy Father.

We concluded the year with our annual gala, Sharing the Spirit of Aloha, and celebrated the governor's announcement of the release of $450,000 in capital improvement grant funds to JCCH. Our success of the past year places us in a strong position as we open the books for the 2014-2015 year. We thank you for your past support and look forward to your continued support moving forward.

Mahalo,

Carole Hayashino
CAROLE HAYASHINO, PRESIDENT AND EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Aloha,

I am very honored to have the privilege to serve as chairman for the Japanese Cultural Center of Hawai'i Board of Directors. The JCCH plays such an important role in Hawai'i's community by preserving our Japanese American heritage and history. To be a part of an organization like the JCCH, with all of the passionate volunteers and members, is such an enjoyable experience on many levels.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank a few of those dedicated volunteers for their many years of service. First, we would like to thank our outgoing chairman, Tyler Tokioka, for his leadership and devotion to JCCH over his many years of service and for continuing to serve on the JCCH Board of Governors. He has been a mentor and friend to many. A big MAHALO to Dave Erdman, Michele Loudermilk, Ken Niimura, and Christine Yano our outgoing members of the Board of Directors. Their participation and commitment to JCCH has made us a better organization today.

Please also join me in welcoming, Ken Hayashida, Mark Ibara, Scott Kuioka, Darryl Nakamoto, Felipe Zialcita, and our Kaua'i island representative, Darcie Yukimura to the Board of Directors. We look forward to their contributions in the many years to come.

Our annual gala kicked us off this summer with much success and optimism where we honored some very impressive honorees. We now look forward to more exciting events in the coming year. Please be on the look out for information on these upcoming events in future Legacies newsletters and please visit us at the cultural center when you have the time.

Mahalo,

Mahalo Tyler!

The Japanese Cultural Center of Hawai'i would like to extend its deepest appreciation to former Chairman of the JCCH Board of Directors Tyler Tokioka for years of dedication and support to the organization.

Tokioka first became involved with JCCH in 2002 when he joined the Board of Governors. He served on the Board of Governors for four years before becoming chairman and headed committees of the center's most notable events including the New Year's 'Ohana Festival and the annual gala dinner.

He joined the JCCH Board of Directors in 2008 and served as chair of the Fundraising committee and vice chair on the Executive committee before assuming the leadership role as chairman.

He co-chaired the search committee for a new president and executive director leading to the hiring of current president Carole Hayashino. During Tyler's tenure, JCCH increased its membership and gala fundraising revenue.

JCCH is forever grateful for your service. Thank you, Tyler, for your leadership and years of support!

David Erdman served six years on the board and served on the Governance and Fundraising/Membership Development committees. Active in the community and promoting U.S.–Japan relations, Erdman assisted JCCH as a communications and marketing advisor on many of JCCH's most notable events and projects.

JCCH Recipient of City and County GIA

JCCH President and Executive Director Carole Hayashino and JCCH Director of Programs Timothy Ho shared with Mayor Kirk Caldwell the JCCH project Exploring Honouliuli: A Multimedia and Virtual Tour. The City and County of Honolulu's Grant in Aid program is providing $41,842.50 in financial support to help JCCH promote and preserve Honouliuli, Hawai'i's longest operating internment camp, through this project. Exploring Honouliuli: A Multimedia and Virtual Tour project's goal is to develop an iOS application and website that will guide users to different parts of the Honouliuli internment camp. Users will be able to watch videos and view pictures of the different parts of the camp as well as hear stories from those who lived behind barbed wire.

State of Hawai'i Appropriates $450,000 to the Japanese Cultural Center of Hawai'i

There was much to celebrate at the JCCH annual gala. Governor Neil Abercrombie announced a $450,000 capital improvement grant for the Japanese Cultural Center of Hawai'i during the gala's evening program.

"Many organizations, schools and families in the community use the facilities at the Japanese Cultural Center," Governor Abercrombie said. "This project will benefit tens of thousands of people and provide job opportunities in our growing construction industry."

The state legislature identified these funds to go to design and construction for health, safety and energy improvements to the Manoa Grand Ballroom and its common areas, along with the community and administrative buildings. The improvement project specifically involves the replacement of ceiling insulation and retrofitting fixtures with energy-efficient LED lighting and upgrading the fire alarm system in the two buildings.

"We're grateful that the Governor and the state recognized JCCH's value and service to the community. The state's investment in our facility is an investment in our future," stated JCCH Chairman Brennon Morioka.

President and Executive Director Carole Hayashino added, "The JCCH is thriving as a 'home' to preserve our Japanese American cultural heritage and serves as a gathering place for many organizations, schools and families. The state's funds will help us maintain a safe, energy efficient home for Hawai'i's Japanese Cultural Center."

It is time to Give Aloha and the Japanese Cultural Center of Hawai'i is proud to once again take part in Foodland's Annual Community Matching Gifts Program.

JCCH Welcomes Draft Report on Honouliuli Gulch and WWII Internment Sites

The Japanese Cultural Center of Hawai'i (JCCH) welcomed the release of the draft Special Resource Study and Environmental Assessment of the Honouliuli Gulch and Associated World War II Internment Sites in Hawai'i issued by the National Park Service (NPS).

The report was authorized by the U.S. Congress in 2009 to determine whether Honouliuli and associated World War II internment sites in the state are suitable and feasible for inclusion in the national park system. The draft study was completed and issued to the public in May 2014 for community review and comment. The JCCH served as the site of two of the public meetings held on O'ahu and attended community meetings held on Kaua'i, Maui and the Island of Hawai'i.

Preserve Honouliuli

"JCCH supports Honouliuli as a national historic site or national monument as a new unit of the national park system," stated Carole Hayashino, president and executive director of the Japanese Cultural Center of Hawai'i. "We look forward to partnering with NPS and the World War II Valor in the Pacific National Monument at Pearl Harbor to share our historical research, co-sponsor educational programs, and support the development of a Honouliuli Visitors Center."

JCCH has been a leading advocate for the preservation of the Honouliuli Internment Camp. In 2002, after four years of research and exploration, JCCH rediscovered the former internment camp site. Partnering with archaeologists from the National Park Service, National Forest Service and University of Hawai'i at West O'ahu, historical archaeological work began on the site. Today, Honouliuli is recognized as one of the best-preserved detention sites in the nation. Since its discovery, JCCH has continued efforts to research Honouliuli's history, gather oral histories, preserve the site and educate the public on Hawai'i's unique Japanese American internment camp experience.

Other Internment Sites

In its special resource study, the National Park Service acknowledged that the U.S. Immigration Station located in Honolulu meets criteria as nationally significant and suitable for inclusion but is not feasible as an addition to the national park system due to its current use by Homeland Security and the State Department of Public Health.

Hayashino added that that JCCH would like see to that the National Register be updated to include the Immigration Station's role in the history of the World War II internment of Japanese Americans in Hawai'i and that the final report recommend that the feasibility criterion be reviewed when federal and state agencies vacate the building. "It is our hope that the former site of the U.S. Immigration Station is preserved for its unique role as a center of administration where loyalty hearings were held, a place of detention, as well as the point of entry to the U.S. for Asian and Pacific immigrants as well as recognize Kilauea Military Camp (KMC), currently located in Volcanoes National Park, as a site of national significance."

The National Park Service acknowledged Kilauea Military Camp as one of the "most intact internment camp structures found in the Hawaiian Islands."

The JCCH is committed to seeing that all 17 internment sites identified throughout the State of Hawai'i are remembered and memorialized by county, state and the federal government. For more information on Hawai'i's internment camps and how you can support JCCH's efforts to preserve the past, contact info@jcch.com.

ARTIFACTS FROM HAWAII'S INTERNMENT CAMPS ENTRUSTED TO JCCH

HISTORICAL

The Japanese Cultural Center of Hawai'i was honored to receive personal items from families of former internees to add to the JCCH special collection on Hawai'i's internment camps. "These rare and historical items give us a glimpse into internees' lives," said Carole Hayashino, JCCH president and executive director. "We can imagine how they spent their days living behind barbed wire, how they coped with the uncertainties of their internment and feel their spirit. We are humbled and grateful for these gifts from the families."

Jane Kurahara, staff associate and chair of the JCCH Hawai'i Internment Education Committee, added, "This is a valuable gift to the JCCH and to our educational efforts. The internees' oral histories, journals, historical photos and the personal artifacts enable present and future generations to learn about Hawai'i's internment history from primary sources."

The JCCH received the Go game set belonging to Sanji Abe and the memoirs of Jack Yoshitami Tasaka, both internees of Honouliuli Internment Camp. Tasaka wrote of Abe and the game of Go:

I came to live in the same room with Mr. Sanji Abe, and learned how to play Go from him. Mr. Abe... was a champion in the camp. There is a saying, "Go reflects personality of the player." Reflecting his noble nature, Mr. Abe had the reputation of being a very fair player. Many of us in the camp loved to play Go, and "detention Go" flourished. [With respect to rivalries and meddling spectators] "Go opponent is hateful, but also enjoyable". This is one of the extra benefits at the detention life.

The Go set remains a symbol of the mutual endurance shared by these men: teaching one another and making the most of a dismal situation.

The JCCH also received a collection of 50 hand-carved birds, fish, and butterflies crafted by Yukuma Hayashi while interned at the Jerome Internment Camp.

Yukuma Hayashi was a resident of Kapaia, Kaua'i. He was working for the Kaua'i Shinpo News when he was detained at the Kalaheo Stockade. Late in 1942, the Hayashi family was sent from Sand Island to the Jerome Internment Camp in Arkansas.

Hayashi spent countless hours on his carvings. He used a thin chisel saw to cut orange crates and then used his pocket knife and chisels to carve out the figures. He made tiny paint brushes and painted individual feathers in watercolor on his figurines. Excellence of craftsmanship was a point of pride among the men in the camp. Unique to Hayashi's collection are carvings of tropical fish native to Hawai'i.

The family of Iwao Oki, interned at Honouliuli, donated a special sewing chest to JCCH. According to the family, Mr. Oki made the sewing chest during his time in the internment camp as a gift for his mother-in-law. A razor blade, a koa razor blade protector, and photos were also given to JCCH by the Oki family. Oki was born in Olaa (now Keeau) but his parents returned to Japan for health reasons. Oki's parents remained in Japan when he returned to the islands. His daughter, Lola, mentioned that her aunty said he would wear a military uniform to school and he had dual citizenship.

The JCCH is honored to be entrusted with preserving the history of Japanese Americans in Hawai'i and is deeply grateful to Jack Tasaka, the families of Sanji Abe, Yukuma Hayashi, and Iwao Oki for supporting efforts to preserve Hawai'i's internment camp history. For more information on the JCCH Special Collections or to make a gift to the JCCH, please contact Tim Ho at ho@jcch.com.

33rd TEMARI Trash & Treasure

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 2

8:00 a.m.

Early Entry for JCCH and TEMARI Members

9:00 a.m. – 2:00 p.m.

General Public

Japanese Cultural Center of Hawai'i
Manoa Grand Ballroom

Trash & Treasure, TEMARI's highly anticipated seasonal craft fundraiser, marks its 33rd year on Sunday, November 2 at the Japanese Cultural Center of Hawai'i's Manoa Grand Ballroom.

TEMARI Trash & Treasure originated in the early years of TEMARI's history, when faculty cleaned out nooks and crannies in their studios to sell one-of-a-kind and discontinued items. The "one person's trash is another's treasure" mantra has prevailed since, and this fair has grown and emerged as a source of wonderful new pieces by a roster of artists and vendors whose wares have become magnets for regular shoppers. Trash & Treasure artists are selected by invitation only and they consistently create new pieces to sell exclusively at Trash & Treasure.

Spend $10.00 in the JCCH gift shop on the first floor and we will validate your parking.

For more information, contact TEMARI at (808) 536-4566 or temari@temaricenter.org.

Planned Giving: Helping Yourself While Supporting the Japanese Cultural Center of Hawai'i

BY: STEVE OKAMOTO

Planned Giving provides individuals with the unique opportunity to serve themselves and their families while supporting a favorite charity like the Japanese Cultural Center of Hawai'i. JCCH has advisors who can explain these surprising benefits in easy-to-understand terms.

They can explain options and strategies including ways to make a tax-deductible gift to the JCCH while retaining the right to receive payments.

The most popular tool to accomplish this is called a charitable remainder trust or (CRT). The number one benefit from a CRT is to exchange highly-appreciated but low-yielding property into a lifetime stream of income while avoiding the capital gains taxes that would be owed if the property were sold. Since the property is donated to a CRT it is not subject to estate taxes.

To learn more about how you can support JCCH and this popular planned giving tool, please contact Denise Park at (808) 945-7633 Ext.27 or park@jcch.com.

NEW IN THE GIFT SHOP!

Breaking the Silence: Lessons of Democracy and Social Justice from the World War II Honouliuli Internment and POW Camp in Hawai'i

GUEST EDITORS: SUZANNE FALGOUT AND LINDA NISHIGAYA

$20.00

An anthology by University of Hawai'i–West O'ahu faculty and community partners including the Japanese Cultural Center of Hawai'i, Densho, King Kamehameha V Judiciary History Center and the National Park Service.

The physical remains of the Honouliuli internment and POW Camp still lie hidden deep within a gulch located just a few miles inland from the famed World War II site of Pearl Harbor. That is not all that is hidden—the stories, experiences and lasting influence of the internment of American civilians and resident aliens of Japanese and Okinawan ancestry, local “suspect” Europeans categorized as Germans and Italians, as well as POWs of Japanese, Okinawan, Korean, Italian, and Filipino origin remain largely unknown and untold.

Reflections of Honor: The Untold Story of a Nisei Spy

LORI WARD AND YOSHINOBU OSHIRO

$20.00

Arthur Komori, a Nisei from Hawai'i, was one of two Japanese Americans recruited to the U.S. Army Counter Intelligence Corps (CIC) to pose as a Japanese sympathizer to spy on Japan's activities in Manila in the months leading up to World War II. Komori's varied responsibilities included interrogating prisoners of war, helping to train new linguist recruits and preparing recruits for work in the Pacific. Komori recorded his wartime story in journals, reports, and even poetry. This long overdue account of a decorated Military Intelligence Hall of Fame inductee reveals an important chapter in the history of Japanese Americans during World War II.

Alvin Okami: Beautiful Days

$11.00

This album consists of contemporary Hawaiian songs about a beautiful time past yet still relevant today. Original compositions written and performed by Alvin Okami of KoAloha Ukulele, with support from some of the island's notable musicians and artists. The CD includes the song Honouliuli, inspired by the JCCH documentary film, The Untold Story: Internment of Japanese Americans in Hawai'i.

nemu*nemu: Out of This World

AUDRA ANN FURUICHI AND SCOTT YOSHINAGA

$15.99

Follow along in the adventures of stuffed animal buddies, Nemu and Anpan, and their owners, Anise and Kana, as they go on epic journeys in a flying cardboard box, dressed up as their favorite television heroes.

nemu*nemu Pups

$20.00 each

The nemu*nemu LOL edition Anpan, Nemu, Enchilada Grande, and Blue plush pups are in stock! Share these cute and adorable pups with your friends and family, or adopt them all into your own plush family. They are certain to bring smiles wherever they go! They are made of soft plush and are roughly 7.5" seated.
